

Felix Terlinden

Game Developer, 3D & Realtime Artist

I am 21 years old, come from Germany and have always been passionate about video games. This drew me into the creative industry, leading to me getting an education in 3D Arts & VFX once I was done with school.

Ever since my education, I have been working on video games in my free time. To find out more about me or see my creative work, please visit my portfolio on felix.terlinden.com.

Wongdoody, Stuttgart (remote)

Junior Interactive & Realtime Artist

During my time at Wongdoody, formerly known as Oddity Waves, I have worked on several realtime advertising projects for automobile customers such as Smart or Renault.

We use Unreal Engine to generate dynamic environments, cameras and customizability that would not have been possible with a real car.

Education

05. 2022 - 07. 2022

CGMA under Clinton Crumpler

Modular Environment Creation Course

I took this 10-week course to deepen my understanding of modular environments.

It was taught by Clinton Crumpler and went over several topics such as scale, layout and storytelling, as well as more technical topics like optimization for games.

10. 2020 - 04. 2022

PixlVisn Media Arts Academy, Cologne

Diploma in 3D Arts & VFX, B+

During my 18 months at PixlVisn, I got a comprehensive overview of each aspect of the 3D pipeline, including Modelling, Rigging, Texturing, LookDev, Dynamics, Animation and Compositing, as well as other related skills such as Drawing, Storyboarding, Photo- and Video Editing.

I developed a lot of related soft skills, such as Lighting, Composition and Anatomy Theory, as well as getting to work on projects in a team.
